One-third of our US partner classrooms located in underserved communities receive substantial underwriting funding.

We need your help to continue to make this happen!

Every contribution counts – just as every student, in every classroom, deserves the educational enrichment Creative Connections provides.

You can support our programs by returning the enclosed reply card or by making an online contribution at

Together, with your support, we can continue to bring healing and change to our world.

Globally connected learning through the exchange of arts & ideas!

“At a time when many cultures and people seem very different and divided, Creative Connections reminds us how small our differences are.

It is inspirational and in my humble opinion should be a requirement for every student.

Thank you from all of us here at P.S.15.”
